

The Riverside Convention & Visitors Bureau misses all of our wonderful clients/partners, but we are forward-thinking and cannot wait to be together soon, enjoying each other's company with the exceptional boutique hospitality experience you have come to expect from us and that we and the Riverside Convention Center love to deliver!

The Riverside Convention Center is busy planning a comprehensive and exciting reopening strategy. This strategy includes a detailed health and safety program using the best available guidance from federal, state and local experts. It also provides special incentives to our loyal clients, new programming opportunities for our industry-unique outdoor meeting and gathering spaces, accompanied by our innovative and inspired farm-to-table cuisine and special craft beverages infused with our famous Riverside citrus flavors.

Like you, we are anxious to be with friends, family and supportive clients again! Until that time, we wish you all the best and are confident better days are ahead for us all. Please know that we stand ready to assist you by answering your questions, addressing any concerns you may have, and either confirming existing dates or shifting dates to fit your needs. We look forward to connecting with you soon!
